

Story Idea Submission Form

Do you have a story idea for AIT Profiles? We would love to hear from you!

The criteria for an AIT Profiles story are:

- A situation where an organization used information technology to solve a practical business problem, such as boosting productivity, cutting costs, delivering new products or services, speeding operations or generally creating a more competitive and valuable organization. It may involve your organization or a customer, partner or supplier.
- The story is original – no one has written about it yet.
- The organization agrees to a phone interview and to a published story about their situation. Interviews usually take no more than a half hour. We will allow the organization to review a draft and provide feedback prior to publication.
